

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A wide angle display system includes a linear array projector, a curved display surface, and a two-sided, substantially planar scanning mirror. The projector is configured to project an image along an optical axis to the scanning mirror. The scanning mirror

5 continuously rotates about an axis substantially in the plane of the mirror, so as to reflect and scan the image onto the display surface.

10

15

20

25

30